Internships in Socioenvironmental Development

List of trainees and their reports

Instituto Evolua, Mauá offers students from CEAQ – the only high school in the region – the opportunity to contribute to the elaboration and development of socioenvironmental projects within the scope of the high school and the Visconde de Mauá region.

In these internships, lasting 10 working days, 2 hours a day on average, young people will basically have to fulfill the following tasks:

Job description

1. Monitor the composting routine, inviting colleagues to help, and organizing a table of collaborators distributed over the days of the week. Research and disseminate the importance and benefits of composting. Keep the record of composted wastes weight up to date, and who helped with the task.
2. Update the list of participants, who registered using tokens printed, informing the names of those interested, the community where live, their interests and how they would like to participate. Check this list with the forms completed online and with the Whatsapp group.
3. Search the internet on subjects of interest to the Practice Group; for example, funding notices for projects like ours, focusing on youth development and community sustainability.
4. Publicize the Group of Practices at the High School and identify new participants in CEAQ to join the activities.
5. Write a short report (1-2 pages) at the end of the internship.

At the end of the internship, the student will receive $40 as a symbolic payment.
